PROJECT TO TRANSFER GLENBURN 3G PITCH TO DELPH SIDE HITS BUFFERS

Lack of council support cited for failure to attract necessary funding

Report by Henry James

THE people behind a project to move the disused £650,000 3G floodlit Astroturf 11-a-side pitch from the former Glenburn Sports College to Delph Side Community Primary school in Skelmersdale have said the proposals have hit the buffers.

Delph Side has worked with West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper in a bid to secure the funding necessary to prepare the site for the transfer of the 3G pitches and equipment, which have not been used since Glenburn closed in July 2016.

However, Jo Whitfield, school business manager at Delph Side Primary has said that because their scheme has not received "favourable support" from Lancashire County Council or West Lancashire Borough Council, they have not been able to receive backing from the business community.

She said the school community was deeply upset that the project could not be fulfilled, and in a letter to parents and other headteachers she wrote: "Our intention to create a community facility for the people of Skelmersdale has not received any favourable support from Lancashire County Council or West Lancashire Borough Council. I have recently had this re-confirmed by Rosie Cooper's office.

The sports facility at the former Glenburn Sports College

"West Lancashire's intention to have the Playing Pitch Strategy re-evaluated this month will call into question whether or not this facility will remain a council priority. Without this evidence of need, we are unable to apply for, or attract grant funding.

"We have also looked to the business community for possible partnership arrangements, but without the backing of Lancashire County Council or West Lancashire Borough Council, we cannot secure any substantial backing.

"We have therefore come to the conclusion that it is not in the interest of the school and SHARES group to continue with our efforts to secure a community sporting facility based at Delph Side."

Options

Rosie Cooper said: "I've been working closely with staff at Delph Side Primary School and SHARES in trying to arrange for the relocation of these pitches to ensure their continued use by Skelmersdale residents but neither West Lancashire Borough Council nor Lancashire County Council are prepared to assist in funding the project citing the Football Foundation's refusal to back the relocation with any grants.

"We are still exploring alternative options but it now seems likely that these pitches will be lost to West Lancashire with Lancashire County Council being prepared to dismantle and dispose of the pitches should no new scheme come forward."

Leader of Lancashire County, Councillor Geoff Driver, responded: "We're sorry to hear that the necessary funding couldn't be found by this group to relocate these sports facilities. We were happy to give these pitches to them for free, provided that they could cover the cost of any relocation.

"The county council was clear all along that we are not in a position to financially support these plans, as we're facing an extremely serious financial challenge.

MP voices concern over transport funding plan snub

Report by Henry James

ROSIE Cooper has expressed her "deep concern" that the announcement by Transport for the North (TfN) of their bid for increased transport funding for the region makes no mention of West Lancashire.

TfN's 98-page Strategic Transport Plan launched last week contains its ideas and aspirations for improved transport links in the North but Ms Cooper says Ormskirk and Burscough don't feature at all, while there is only a passing reference to Skelmersdale.

The West Lancs MP has campaigned both locally and nationally since 2012 for a railway station in Skelmersdale - the second biggest town in the North West without one. During this period she has raised the matter with various Transport Ministers and even orally with the then Prime Minister in 2014.

Lancashire County Council's West Lancashire Highways and Transport Masterplan 2014 and Merseytravel's Liverpool City Region Long Term Rail Strategy 2014 have discussed at length the economic and social advantages that a Skelmersdale railway would bring.

Rosie Cooper: 'We need action not another talking shop'

And Ms Cooper has also continuously campaigned for the reinstatement of the Burscough Curves and for the creation of the long-awaited bypass for Ormskirk and Burscough.

She said: "I have campaigned tirelessly for improved transport links across West Lancashire for many years, including Skelmersdale railway station, the reinstatement of the Burscough Curves, an improved east-west rail service and a bypass for Ormskirk and Burscough.

"This plan from Transport for the North disappointingly does not address any of these transport projects and risks ploughing all the resources into the North's city regions while leaving behind economic centres and residents outside of these areas.

"West Lancashire needs significant transport infrastructure investment and I will continue to campaign for this.

"I have written to the chair and chief executive of Transport for the North and the chair of the All Party Parliamentary Group for the Northern Powerhouse to ask why West Lancashire has been omitted and confirmed that I do not welcome this plan while it appears to neglect critical transport issues for my constituents.

"We need action and funding, not another talking shop."

The Essity site in Skelmersdale

Tissue maker all set to reopen Tawd paper mill

£12 million investment will create 40 new jobs and make Skem firm UK's largest manufacturer of premier-quality toilet rolls

Report by Kenny Parker

A MULTI-million pound investment, that will see a Skelmersdale-based mill become a leader in specialist tissue manufacturing, is nearing completion with production planned to start in the next few weeks.

Leading global hygiene and health company, Essity, has invested £12 million in reopening the Tawd paper mill in the town to meet growing demand for premium quality tissue. The investment will create 40 new jobs.

Welcomed by West Lancs MP, Rosie Cooper, and Lancashire Enterprise Partnership, the investment will make Essity the UK's largest manufacturer of premium-quality tissue, used to make toilet rolls that are softer and stronger.

Once production starts, thousands of tons of paper on giant 'mother reels' - made from 100% certified or controlled fibre - will leave the mill on Paddock Road for other Essity sites across the UK. Here, the tissue will be converted into some of the UK's best-known household brands such as Cushelle, Plenty and Velvet.

Confidence

EP board member, Graham Cowley, who lives in West Lancashire, believes existing large local employers making additional investments of this type is further proof of the county's ability to attract and retain world-class businesses.

"I'm delighted to welcome this exciting investment as a tangible example of the commitment and confidence Essity has in its base in Skelmersdale, and the local workforce," he said.

The company's other location on Pimbo Road, Skelmersdale, has 334 employees and is one of the largest sites in Europe for the production of the company's Professional Hygiene range that includes Tork folding hand towels used in hospitals, hotels and motorway service areas.

Essity project manager, Frank Hurst, added: "We appreciate all the support we have had from local residents and key stakeholders, particularly whilst we were commissioning the new boiler and testing the steam system, which generated a bit more noise than normal.

"Overall everything has gone well, and we are on track to open on schedule in the early part of the New Year."

Councillor joins calls for inquiry into Carillion crash

SKELMERSDALE West County Councillor Julie Gibson, the Labour group lead for economic regeneration at Lancashire County Council has joined calls for an inquiry into how the UK's second largest construction company, Carillion, was placed into compulsory liquidation.

She has warned that this must not mean "business as usual for big business" and has sought re-assurances that current regeneration programmes in Lancashire are not adversely affected by the collapse.

Cllr. Gibson said: "This announcement has left many workers unsure about their futures - they have headed into work not knowing if their wages, pensions or even their jobs are safe.

"I hope that the appointed administrator, PWC, will provide re-assurances on these to the workforce as a matter of urgency."

Cllr. Gibson also confirmed that the Labour group at County Hall were seeking reassurances that regeneration projects in Lancashire are safe.

She said: "We have asked the question at LCC and have been given reassurances that for now there will be no adverse affects on any major developments in Lancashire.

Skelmersdale West County Councillor Julie Gibson

"But there has to be an urgent inquiry and the question must be asked how a company that loaded itself with so much debt and undercut competitors with unsustainable bids was able to get its hands on so much public sector and tax payer's cash."

Cllr Gibson concluded: "One thing is clear - there must be no more 'business as usual' for big business."

Paula Gamester and Maureen Fazal with their Syrian visitors to The Sewing Rooms

Sewing Rooms plays host to Syrian visitors

THE Sewing Rooms social enterprise group has played host to a group of Syrian refugees.

The organisation, which aims to improve the health and wellbeing of communities, have been providing sewing sessions for the Syrian refugees living in Skelmersdale. These have been partly funded by West Lancs Borough Council.

And since opening a Sewing Rooms branch in Halton, the Skelmersdale group has also engaged with more than 25 Syrian refugees living in the Runcorn area.

During the visit to the Skelmersdale base in Gladden Place the Syrian women were treated to lunch and the day was declared a great success.

Maureen Fazal a director at the Sewing Rooms, said: "What a wonderful day it was as more than 30 women came together in the Sewing Rooms.

"They produced a wonderful piece of embroidery celebrating the occasion and laughed, danced and exchanged names and addresses with each other.

"They all enjoyed a delicious vegan/vegetarian lunch cooked specially for the occasion by Evermoor Hub.

Coroner's office next of kin plea

AN appeal is being made for information to identify the next of kin of a man who died recently in Aintree University Hospital.

Although originally from Liverpool, Ronald Totten was living in the Sklmersdale area when he passed away at the hospital on Monday, January 15 at the age of 61.

His death is not being treated as suspicious but Liverpool Coroner's Office are seeking to find his next of kin.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the coroner's investigation officer Lisa McElvogue on 0151 233 0128 or email Lisa.McElvogue@liverpool.gov.uk.

Glenburn pitch transfer project hits buffers

"Sports equipment from the Glenburn site has been given to local schools, so that it could benefit the community."

And a spokesman for West Lancs Council commented: "With regards to the possible relocation of the 3G pitch to Delph Side Primary School, we can confirm that the borough council has met with the school to discuss their proposal. Following advice from the Football Association, the school were informed that the relocation of the pitch was highly likely to be uneconomically viable. Furthermore, any application for funding such a project would be unlikely to be successful as the cost of relocation would be comparable to or greater than the match funding required to build a new pitch.

"The school were also advised that detailed site and condition surveys would be required as a 3G pitch comprises a number of parts, many of which could not be relocated."

Safety partnership stalwart signs off with glowing commendation

A SENIOR West Lancashire Borough Council officer has been presented with a commendation by Lancashire Police in gratitude for his work to help tackle crime and community safety issues.

Dave Tilleray, the council's Director of Leisure and Wellbeing and chairman of the West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership (WLCSP) is leaving the authority after 22 years.

He has been involved with the community safety partnership since 2005; became chairman in April 2011 and has presided over numerous achievements to help tackle crime and improve community safety in the borough.

To thank him for his efforts he has been presented with a letter from the Chief Constable and a Divisional Commander's Commendation, which is given by Lancashire Police to recognise work that makes a significant contribution to achieving targets of local policing plans.

This has included helping to tackle serious and organised crime; reducing reoffending; preventing child sexual exploitation; tackling domestic violence issues and protecting vulnerable people from repeat anti-social behaviour.

During Dave's chairmanship, WLCSP has enjoyed success in tackling organised crime by working with partners through Operation Nemesis, which was led by the police.

This has led to more than 370 arrests, more than 200 years of prison sentences being handed out by the courts, and almost £2 million pounds worth of drugs being seized.

Tackling child sexual exploitation has been a subject that Dave is particularly passionate about. He has played a role in making sure awareness training has been delivered to every secondary school in West Lancashire.

Other initiatives introduced under his tenure include the Bright Sparx Action Plan, which has seen the number of deliberate fires and anti-social behaviour offences reported over the Halloween and Bonfire period fall by more than 50%; and a working group to help agencies and partners work together to engage with new Edge Hill University students during Welcome Week.

Dave said: "I am very proud of what the community safety partnership has achieved while I have been involved and it was a lovely surprise to receive this commendation."

And Councillor Kevin Wright, West Lancs Council cabinet member for community safety, added: "Dave's commitment to ensuring West Lancashire remains a safe place has been a strong foundation for the WLCSP. The challenge for partners is to build on his legacy and carry on working to make West Lancashire a safe place."

Dave's contribution to partnership working on community safety was also recognised with a letter of appreciation from the Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service southern area group manager.

Rising US rap stars to play at E Rooms

Report by Kenny Parker

Rappers Mega Ran and Sammus who are playing at the E Rooms as part of their first UK tour.

UP-and-coming US hip hop stars, Mega Ran and Sammus will be playing a live show at the E Rooms on Friday, February 23 as part of their UK tour with support from local rappers, Profit and The Surgeon.

Both Mega Ran and Sammus are known for their use of video game soundtracks in their music and are playing several video game expos as part of their tour.

Mega Ran has signed a licensing deal with Japanese video game developers Capcom, and Sammus has opened performances for well-respected artists Raekwon, Open Mike Eagle, Random (Mega Ran) and many others.

Steve Horrocks, the director of the E Rooms, a non-profit social enterprise based at Westgate, Skelmersdale, said: "We try to get all genres of music here at E Rooms, that's what we are about.

"These are rising stars in the US and this is their first-ever UK tour, and we are getting in there early.

"We are trying to push the boundaries in bringing these big American stars to Skelmersdale."

Another highlight is that popular local rapper John Hunter, who goes by the name Profit, will be attending the event.

Steve said: "We have tried to get him to play at the E Rooms for the past 10 years and have not succeeded. He pulls in a huge local crowd."

Mega Ran and Sammus will be holding a meet and greet/signing session before the gig for their fans.

Doors open at 8pm and tickets are £7 in advance and £10 on the night.

The opening of the play area

Councillor opens new outdoor play area at primary school

AN outdoor area at St James' Catholic Primary School in Skelmersdale has been officially opened by Councillor, Yvonne Gagen.

Councillor Gagen, deputy leader for West Lancashire Borough Council and ward councillor for Ashurst, was invited to cut the ribbon and join in with the celebrations at the school in Ashurst Road.

As the Early Years Foundation Stage Curriculum focuses heavily on outdoor experiences and the opportunities for children to explore and learn through their outdoor environment, the school were keen to get it right.

Headteacher, Dave Iliff, said: "We are delighted to have this brand new outdoor area for our youngest children to enjoy.

"It will certainly enhance the quality education our pupils already receive which was recognised by Ofsted last May."

Cllr. Gagen added: "St James' is a loving caring school where all pupils, staff and families can learn and grow together."

The children could not wait for the grand opening to discover all that was on offer. And after the children in the Early Years Foundation Stage had tried and tested their new area, they were keen to share it with their Year 6 buddies.

The school actively promotes and encourages their buddy system which allows the older children to work alongside and support the youngest children, helping to promote their mission statement, 'We belong to the loving family of St James.'

County libraries to celebrate National Storytelling Week

LIBRARIES in Lancashire will be taking part in National Storytelling Week from Saturday, January 27 to Saturday, February 3.

Staff at libraries across the county and the school library service will take the opportunity to read stories to children and to celebrate reading.

For more information about National Storytelling Week and events and activities that are taking place contact your local library; visit www.lancashire.gov.uk/libraries; or call 0300 123 6703.

More information about National Storytelling Week, is also available at www.sfs.org.uk.

Chance to remember loved ones at church's Annual Bereavement Service

THE Annual Bereavement Service at St Paul's Parish Church, Old Skelmersdale will take place on Sunday, January 28 starting at 6.30pm.

The vicar, Reverend Chris Spittle and the ministry team at the church in Church Road extend a warm welcome to all who have lost loved ones, either recently or in the past to join, them for this uplifting service.

As people arrive at church they are invited to write down the names of those they are coming to remember.

During the service these names will be read out and everyone is invited to light a candle as an act of remembrance.

All welcome

The service, which has been operating for a good number of years, has proved to be much appreciated with people of all faiths and none welcome to attend.

Following the service people are invited to stay for tea and coffee and members of the bereavement team will be on hand for a chat.

Meanwhile the Christmas Tree Festival held at St Paul's in the run-up to the festive season proved a great success.

The Church Council agreed that admission would be either by a food item or monetary donation with the proceeds going to the Skelmersdale Food Bank. And there was an excellent response with more than 600 food items and £1,000 in cash donated.

Visitors at a previous year's Potato Day at the Concourse

Allotments Federation Potato Day set for return to Concourse

THE sixth annual Potato Day, organised by the West Lancashire Allotments Federation, will be held in Skelmersdale's Concourse Shopping Centre on Saturday, February 3.

Organised in conjunction with Brighter Blooms Nursery of Preston, the popular event will run from 10am to 3pm offering customers a choice of more than 100 varieties of potatoes.

Also available on the day will be seeds, onions, garlic, soft fruit bushes and fruit trees, plus the opportunity to discuss all things related to growing with members of the federation.

And officials of Skelmersdale Library will attend with gardening books to lend, as well as offering a chance to join Lancashire Libraries.

A spokesman for the West Lancashire Allotments Federation said: "We would like to thank the management of the Concourse for this opportunity to promote the federation's work and the benefits of allotments."

Lancashire Police issue county's December drink-driving figures

Report by Henry James

A total of 3,247 breath tests were administered across the county throughout December 2017, with 126 people failing the test or refusing to provide a specimen, resulting in a failure rate of 3.9%, a slight decrease compared to 2016.

The December campaign was the third to include drug-driving tests, with 56 people stopped - 30 of which were drivers found to be under the influence of drugs - meaning that 54% of those tested for drugs failed the roadside test.

The annual crackdown on drink and drug driving saw high-profile activity take place across the county throughout the whole of December. However, officers adopted an intelligence-led approach leading to an increase in both drug and alcohol tests showing a positive, failed or refused reading.

In the southern division of Lancashire Constabulary, which includes West Lancashire, 16 drug tests were administered in 2017 and 10 tested positive - a detection rate of 62.5%. In the same area 1,157 breath tests were administered and 38 tested positive – a detection rate of 3.3%.

Inspector Andy Trotter of Lancashire Police, said: "Drinking or taking drugs when driving is unacceptable at any time of the year and our efforts to catch those responsible will continue in a bid to make our roads safer.

"Unfortunately 126 people still thought it acceptable to drink and drive risking their licence, jobs, lives and even worse putting others at risk.

"What is disappointing is that more than half of the drugs tests conducted registered a positive result, showing that again some people chose to not only put their own lives in serious danger, but the lives of everyone around them by driving under the influence.

"Just one drink or drug driver on the roads of Lancashire is always one too many. We will continue to carry out regular enforcement activity and take action against those who continue to break the law."

Committed

Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw said: "Drink and drug-driving will not be tolerated here in Lancashire and targeted campaigns like this in December make a real difference, at a time of year when the dangers of drink driving should be at the forefront of everyone's mind.

"It also acts as a reminder for motorists that we will take necessary action against those who are putting their own lives and other people's lives at risk.

"We are committed to making Lancashire's roads as safe as possible, and continue to work all year round to ensure our roads are free from drug and drink drivers."

To report someone who you suspect of driving whilst under the influence of alcohol or drugs, contact the police on 101. In an emergency, always dial 999.

Council rolls out discretionary rates relief scheme for local businesses

Report by Kenny Parker

WEST Lancs Council has begun to implement new centrally-funded schemes to provide financial help to small businesses in the borough.

In his Spring Budget last year, Chancellor Philip Hammond announced a £435 million package of support for business ratepayers over the next four years, following the 2017 business rate revaluation.

This comprised three schemes: annual bill increase cap for any ratepayer losing small business rate relief or rural rate relief as a result of the revaluation; a £300 million fund for local authorities to distribute over four years to help hard-pressed businesses facing higher business rates bills; and a £1,000 discount to pubs with a rateable value of less than £100,000.

West Lancs MP, Rosie Cooper, says she contacted the council about the rate relief schemes and publicising the eligibility criteria for local businesses. However, although assured by the chief executive that the financial allocations would be made by early October, she says this did not happen.

Following a request by Local Government Minister, Marcus Jones, Ms Cooper Wrote to the chief executive expressing concern that West Lancashire was one of 14 councils in the county failing to commence rebilling for the discretionary scheme with a risk of any unspent monies being returned to central government.

The council has said that they began to rebill businesses in November.

Rosie Cooper said: "This is good news for many businesses in West Lancashire who will benefit from the financial support through the rebate settlement.

"With high streets declining across the country and businesses struggling with the battle against online competition, it is important national and local government is doing everything it can to promote sustainability and growth for businesses.

"I am pleased that the council are now getting on with the process and that it appears we won't lose out on the £169,000 allocated by the department to support local business."

A spokesperson for the council said: "West Lancashire Borough Council has always been fully committed to awarding the relief in the Local Discretionary Business Rates Scheme and began rebilling eligible businesses on November 22.

"The MP and the relevant government department were informed of this position at that time. The scheme has now been up and running for eight weeks and businesses have been benefiting from reductions in their business rate bills."

The spokesperson said that the other two schemes introduced by the Chancellor were implemented in October and November and added: "The time taken to implement these schemes was similar to many other authorities, and it should be noted that some councils have not yet implemented all three schemes.

"This process was affected by the need to consult with other local authorities and the date of receipt and necessary subsequent testing of software system amendments, to enable the rebilling to be processed. All eligible businesses will still however receive their full discount for this year."

The council says it has written to all of the businesses that are eligible for the Local Discretionary Business Rates Scheme and asked them to complete a simple application form.

Eligible businesses are those with a rateable value of under £200,000 who have seen the largest increase in their business rate bills this year and who meet certain criteria.

The maximum relief that can be granted this year is £5,000.

Youngsters at Skelmersdale's Ducklings Day Nursery celebrating its first anniversary

Ducklings add more than a splash of colour to nursery's first anniversary celebrations

YOUNGSTERS at a Skelmersdale nursery enjoyed a colourful celebration to mark its first anniversary.

They were joined for the day by parents and also took part in a number of craft activities.

Manager of the nursery, Janet Doyle, said: "The day was a huge success. The children thoroughly enjoyed all the activities and the parents enjoyed being involved. We look forward to many more years of celebrations."

History group want your memories of yesteryear

OFFICIALS of a local history group are seeking to capture the memories of older residents of West Lancashire for posterity.

Michael Dawson, founder of the group, Images of Burscough and Surrounding Areas, says: "What we would like is for residents to write down any memories or stories that they can remember from our local areas' past. This could be anything from your time at school, the shops you used to go to, your employment, wartime stories or the people you remember."

Submissions will be added to the archive of photos and memorabilia that has been collected over the last 20 years and will be made available for view on the group's website at www.images-of-burscough.co.uk, and on their Facebook page.

To contribute, either send your submissions by post to Michael Dawson at 54 The Quays, Burscough, L40 5TW, or by email to wilsonmiley@live.co.uk.

Winter Weather - Personal Injury

As we move through winter, with many forecasters predicting colder snowier conditions than normal, some of us will find ourselves falling victim to the less favourable conditions. Regular winter storms add to the potentially treacherous driving conditions and drivers need to take extra care as a result of the conditions.

According to the Department of Transport, 251 people were seriously injured and 2,274 were slightly injured in reported road accidents during icy and snowy conditions in 2014. During December 2017 the RAC estimated it would be called out to 9,000 of its members on peak days. Of course, many of these accidents are actually avoidable.

During difficult driving conditions, many motorists fail to take the necessary care to other road users which can result in dangerous collisions and you suffering injury. The law protects those injured as a result of another's negligence and you may be able to claim compensation.

The same goes for roads, pavements, car parks and public spaces. If surfaces become icy or snowy and they remain untreated this can lead to slips and trips which can cause serious injuries. In the case of Rockliffe v Liverpool City Council a pathway had been allowed to become icy and remained untreated; as a result Ms Rockliffe slipped causing her to suffer a serious head injury. As a result of her injuries, Ms Rockcliffe received damages of £35,000.

Accidents can happen at any time and if you feel that you would like to talk to a solicitor about an accident you have had in the last three years please call Sam Seagraves at DickInson Parker Hill for comprehensive legal advice as to your rights and potential remedies.

If you would like any further information about making a compensation claim as a result of injuries in the last 3 years, please contact Sam Seagreaves by email:

Members of Bunkers Golf Society present the cheque to Jill Boardman, chief executive of Twinkle House

Golfers chip in with a welcome boost for children's charity

A GROUP of big-hearted golfers certainly hit the target with a donation of more than £2,750 for the Skelmersdale-based Twinkle House children's charity.

Representatives of the Bunkers Golf Society went along to the charity's base in Gladden Place, Gillibrands to hand over a cheque for £2,752.

The money was raised by members of the society in a variety of ways throughout the last golfing season, ending with a final fundraising social evening held at Gathurst Golf Club in October.

And thanks to the efforts of another member, Dan Alexander and the generosity of Barclays Bank PLC, more than £700 was added to the monies raised by society members through the bank's 'matched funding' scheme.

Twinkle House provides sensory-based services for for children and young people with disabilities and additional needs up to the age of 19.

Jill Boardman said: "This is an amazing donation. "We are so grateful to the committee and members of Bunkers Golf Society for their wonderful support which will certainly help our therapists, counsellors, nurses and teachers to continue their vitally important work providing education, treatment and encouragement to youngsters and families from across West Lancashire."

Debt recovery agency wins National Skills Academy Accreditation

A SKELMERSDALE-based debt recovery and collection agency has been awarded National Skills Academy accreditation within the financial services sector.

Federal Management Ltd of the Whitemoss Business Park was assessed in different categories by the National Skills Academy for Financial Services which aims to improve opportunities and performance.

Goals are achieved via training and quality recognition programmes, as well as supporting new employment routes.

Accreditation recognises industry expertise and acknowledges new training opportunities created by selected third parties.

The company were judged on their leadership and strategy, training and development, the quality of their offering and available facilities and resources, impressing the assessor with an 'A' rating.

Pamela Prescott, Federal Management's human resources director, said: "We are extremely delighted to be awarded accreditation by the NSAFS. This accreditation provides a 'kite mark' of our commitment to providing a quality, professional service to both new and existing clients."

HR & Finance director Pamela Prescott receiving award

A spokesman for the company added: "As the first debt collection agency to achieve this prestigious award, we are rightly leading the way within private and commercial debt collecting in the United Kingdom."

Youth Champion's donation is 'grand' boost for charity!

Report by Kenny Parker

A WEST Lancashire-based charity which provides leisure activities for people with learning disabilities has been handed a £1,000 boost, courtesy of Lancashire County Council's Champion for Youth, County Councillor Mark Perks.

Formed in 2008, the family-led Sporting Challenge aims to provide members with events to help them keep fit and healthy, including aerobics, bowling, boccia, kurling, zumba/dance, swimming and other fitness and leisure activities.

The group currently has 46 members from the West Lancashire area who are provided with transport to and from their homes to events, along with sessional workers to support them while carrying out the activities.

Membership is expected to grow in coming years while around a third of the current members are aged 16 to 22.

Sporting Challenge Activities Co-ordinator, Edward McCarthy, said: "We are working with Lancashire County Council and its transition social workers to provide suppor and sessions for 'transition aged' adults between the ages of 16 and 22. This can be a difficult time for them and their families with lots of changes as they move from school or college into adulthood and possibly lose touch with friends they have made there.

"There are potentially more members who might benefit from our support in this age range and I would like to thank Councillor Mark Perks for this funding award which will make a huge difference."

Save Money on School Trips to Martin Mere

Winter and early spring are great times to come and experience the migration of wild swans, geese and ducks which come here from Iceland and many parts of mainland Europe. Our guided learning sessions are geared closely to the national curriculum and encourage enquiry by the learners. Around 10,000 school children come to Martin Mere each year, but winter really is the wild bird highlight. There are very few places in the world where you can get this close to wild, migratory whooper swans.

Laura Belger from Burscough St John's C of E Primary School said, "Of all the trips we do, this is my favourite. It is so hands on and the children absolutely love it. At school we do science based on seasonal changes in our local area so it's really important to learn about migration and why the swans come all this way for the winter. This morning we have been in the hide, using binoculars and looking at the swans, doing the guided learning workshop in the theatre and learning about habitats. I highly recommend this time of year to visit Martin Mere. There are lots of warm classrooms and we often do some badge making so the children have a souvenir to take home."

Special offers!

We are delighted to have begun a new partnership with our neighbours Don Fraser Coaches of Rufford. By working together, we can offer very economical coach transport to around 130 local schools. Just give us a call on 01704 891244 to check for availability.

For schools who are very local to Martin Mere, we have started to offer the chance to avoid using a coach altogether. Instead of parents dropping their children at school at 8.30, they drop them at Martin Mere, where a member of staff is on hand to meet them and make sure all is safe. The children can then be picked up from Martin Mere at school closing time. For these 25 schools, the journey is pretty much the same for parents as taking the children to school and back.

Burscough CEP and Richard Durnings primary school have both done this and Laura from Burscough St John's C of E had this to say. "It is all safely managed with members of staff on hand to show children into the classroom. There are activities to do before the learning sessions begin and the car parking arrangements are easy, as we arrive and leave before and after any coaches do. And it saves us lots of money!"

Teenager writes to PM in bid to raise awareness of young people's mental health issues

Report by Kenny Parker

A TEENAGER from West Lancashire has gone right to the top in her bid to raise awareness of and more support for young people suffering from mental health problems.

The 17-year-old, a student at Ormskirk Sixth Form College who has asked to remain anonymous, has written to the Prime Minister, Theresa May - with a copy to West Lancs MP, Rosie Cooper.

She said: "I believe there is simply not enough help for young people fighting mental illness."

In the letter she details her own experience of seeking help for mental health issues, including lengthy waits to be seen by health professionals and being sent to counselling sessions aimed at older people.

She also claims schools are failing to address mental health issues that affect children and that young sufferers need to be encouraged to be more open about it.

An edited version of the letter reads as follows:

'Dear Prime Minister, I am writing to you concerning the subject of mental health and the services and support available within the UK, especially those available to young people.

'Mental health services within the UK need improving. As someone 17 years of age, I cannot speak for those older than me, only young people and from what I have experienced the support, services and knowledge of mental health are simply not good enough.

'20% of teens will experience some sort of mental health issue before reaching adulthood therefore when a young person claims they need help, they need it then and with a wait of at least 12-15 weeks for cognitive behavioural therapy, people are simply not getting the help needed.

'Services also need to be age specific. Recently I was sent on a stress-control course and was the youngest person in the room by at least 15 years. I realised I could not relate to these people due to the age gap.

Brushed off

'Stigma caused by society is the biggest problem regarding mental health in teenagers. There needs to be more education within schools from a young age regarding mental health. I am currently in my first year of college and during my school life can possibly remember having one 45-minute lesson about mental health. Is this really enough?

'Within young people I believe a lot of mental health issues are brushed off as hormones, with doctors, peers and teachers believing - and I quote a doctor - "a lot of young girls your age go through emotional difficulties." Yes, I realise this but if I've felt the need to go and speak to someone about it and the way my thoughts are flowing, is this really normality and just hormones? I don't believe it is.

'Doctors also need more knowledge on teenage mental health as I personally have never been so unsatisfied with the support, or rather lack of support I have received from the NHS, with numerous doctor's appointments and phone calls leading nowhere.

'I thank you for your consideration on this matter and I look forward to your response.'

A spokesman for 10 Downing Street told the Champion that the Prme Minister's office receives a large amount of mail and that the vast majority is dealt with by the relevant departments. He said: "They have insight into the issues raised in the letter and can give the best guidance and response.

Police team up with restorative justice charity for launch of hate crime initiative

LANCASHIRE Police is the first force in England and Wales to team up with national charity, Why me? with the aim of improving victims' access to restorative justice,

Why me? campaigns for and advocates greater access to restorative justice for victims of crime in the two countries.

It works with victims, offenders, statutory services, voluntary organisations and criminal justice agencies and in 2015 launched its own Restorative Justice Service giving the right to everyone who has suffered as a result of crime to have their chance to talk about what happened.

The first phase of the charity's collaboration with Lancashire Police is the project, Access to Justice: Hate Crime and Restorative Justice.

Ministry of Justice research has shown that restorative justice can result in 85% victim satisfaction and a 14% reduction in the frequency of re-offending. The aim of the project is to work with community groups and find out what the barriers are, what support is required, and what practical guidance practitioners need on how the restorative justice process can be best used for hate crime and for specific groups of victims.

Lancashire Police Restorative Justice Manager, Helena Cryer.

Helena Cryer, Lancashire Police's Restorative Justice Manager, says: "We are really looking forward to working with Why me? on this exciting project in 2018. The utilisation of restorative justice for hate crime and hate incidents can have recognised benefits for victims and we are keen in Lancashire to further develop the access that victims have to restorative justice."

Why me? director, Lucy Jaffe, added: "Used alongside any punishment, restorative justice has the potential to really identify and address the harms caused by hate crime. It offers victims the opportunity to take back control by telling their story and having their voices heard. The reality of victims' suffering is brought into focus for offenders, allowing them to see the humanity in their victims and helping them to change.

'Positive step'

"We are delighted to be working with Lancashire Police, with its proven track record on commitment to restorative justice and its enthusiasm to provide sector-leading support to victims."

Clive Grunshaw, Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner, commented: "This highlights the fantastic work the team at Lancashire Police and Lancashire Victim Services are doing, offering the advice and support people need to take this difficult but often important step, also building on the work that has been done in the county supporting victims of hate crime.

"It is another positive step towards making our communities better, safer places to live."

Champion LETTERS to the Editor

Clare House, 166 Lord Street, Southport PR9 0QA
tel 01704 392 400 email editor@champnews.com

Inflation rising faster than wages and benefits cut - where does commissioner think the pubic's money is going to come from to fund county's policing?

POLICE Commissioner Clive Grunshaw is once again asking the public, the long-suffering silent majority, if they would be happy to pay more money for better policing as the Government have withdrawn funding.

I find this difficult to believe.

Grunshaw is a civil servant earning £100,000 a year. He has an office with staff and, I suspect, a deputy.

The public are experiencing 3.1% inflation, 2.3% wage increases, if they are fortunate, and drastic benefit reductions to vulnerable claimants.

There are about 120,000 police - one police person for 500 civilians. Not all police are front-line officers, about 40% do clerical jobs, like answering phones, processing documents, run-of-the mill office procedures. All could be done by civilian office workers.

The police can retire after 25years service with a generous pension plus a final golden handshake settlement sum.

Last year the Champion reported the retirement of the Skelmersdale Commander, aged 52, after 30 years service. It was stated he was going to run a band. What a waste of his experience.

If he was in a 'normal' job, as most people are, he would have had another 17 years to work.

So before the Police Commissioner goes on his annual begging for money it should be incumbent to look at ways of increasing efficiency. Would he care to explain how last year's increase was spent?

We do need more police, we also need demonstrable efficiency.

Front-line police do a superb job like no other and are called upon, at times, to put their lives on the line. We do not need them doing office jobs and being put out to grass at 40 years.

Rail dispute is about safety only - not holding companies over a barrel

IN reply to the letter by J. M. Berry of Aughton headed 'Rail travelling public set to suffer again' (Letters, January 10), should that have read J. M. Barrie of Never Never Land in his or her idea that the dispute is about the guards holding the company to ransom?

This is nothing whatsoever to do with holding Merseyrail over a barrel regarding strike action - it's to do with safety and safety only.

I presume that J. M. Berry is a male and uses Merseyrail during the 'safe hours', not an elderly person or a lady, young or old, traveling alone when the 'pond life' emerge to cause trouble on the network. So, J. M., consider a member of your family being accosted by this scum.

Also, the bigger picture is how many British taxpayers are aware 75% of rail companies are run by foreign countries with £2.61 billion paid in subsidies by the taxpayer. Merseyrail alone has a £125m subsidy with £16m paid to shareholders in dividends - fact, not a fairytale from Never Never Land. This dividend alone pays the guards wages', not skimmed off to subsidise the Dutch, German and French rail passengers which is the case.

If these countries can run our railways at a profit why can't we?

C. Green, Aughton

PICTURE of the week

Guiding hand: Following its appearance on TV's Great British Railway Journeys with Michael Portillo, The Hornby Heritage Room at Maghull Leisure Centre opened its doors last Sunday for visitors to see the collection in honour of Maghull's visionary toy manufacturer Frank Hornby. Picture by Martyn Snape.

Anti-Brexit gang's claims are laughable

READING the anti-Brexit contributions to your letters page never fails to make me chuckle. Two contributions appeared recently. Both had me clutching my stomach with laughter.

Poor old Maurice George seemed suicidal and like many with his beliefs clings to the hope that anti-democratic shenanigans will ultimately save us all from our ignorance.

This apparently all based on a somewhat less than statistically scientific approach consisting of standing in Ormskirk and talking to anyone who might join him in the pouring rain to discuss all things EU. Pure gold.

Then there was Dr John. I have to say his surname, Watt, seems most appropriate, the word being that which most readers must have uttered upon reading his letter.

Take his classic piece of analysis warning of the UK losing its agriculture and food industry under the weight of massive post-Brexit imports.

The good doctor appears to be short of understanding of recent economic history - it was precisely the opportunities that existed for the then Common Market to offload all its inefficiently produced and highly-priced food surpluses into Britain that persuaded the then six members to finally let us into the Community!

Roll on next week's edition for more laughs.

NHS in need of a radical overhaul

WITH the NHS again making headlines I felt compelled to share a recent experience at a West Lancashire walk-in centre.

I arrived before 9am and was pleased to see it was relatively quiet. I was told by the receptionist that she couldn't register me because the computer system was updating - she was clearly flustered and embarrassed. By the time she was able to register me a queue was beginning to form.

Why are updates not done through the night like most large organisations are? Then the receptionist can do her job, the triage nurse can do hers, and the clinical staff can then do theirs?

The NHS needs a radical overhaul, this includes the GP services which in my opinion are not fit for purpose.

Walk-in centres need to be open longer, closing at 8pm just passes the problem onto A&E and the whole cycle starts again.

The NHS needs to stop being a political football and become a cross-party responsibility. Change for change sake is a waste of time and money, staff need continuity, support and leadership that actually knows what it's doing!

Dismayed by coverage of Aurora plans

I WAS very dismayed at your front page (January 10) with Ian Roche and Aurora getting such a glowing spread.

For residents of West Lancs and Sefton this news was generally the worst start to the New Year.

You failed to mention that almost all the parish councils, West Lancs and Sefton borough councils and Lancashire County Council gave a resounding no to any fracking in our area.

Nor did you mention that this decision was overturned by central government against the will of the ratepayers of Lancashire.

Nor did you mention the seismic events of 2011 in the Fylde caused by the fracking, the hundreds of extra heavy goods vehicles on our country roads and the billions of gallons of water needed in an area already prone to flooding.

There are countless studies which prove the horizontal hydraulic fracking process to be a danger to our public health and our environment. Anyone not taking the time to inform themselves is acting irresponsibly.

Mrs M. Tarplee, by email

Fracking proposal is a real shocker!

TO say I was shocked to see the plans to bid for fracking on one of the best nature sites in this area would be an understatement.

Altcar has one of the highest levels of skylarks, lapwings and hares in the country and they all nest on the fields where the wells are planned.

There are also barn owls and stoats in the nearby fields and in the autumn the geese and swans use the fields. And, of course, there are the many walkers who enjoy the rare sights and songs of this wildlife.

Skylarks and lapwings are ground-nesting birds they wouldn't stand a chance if this went ahead.

Have we nowhere that is safe for our wildlife?

God help this planet.

MP welcomes water company's initiative on customer debt

UNITED Utilities has launched two new financial support schemes which it says will help customers struggling to pay their water bills.

The schemes were launched at the company's first Affordability Summit in Liverpool which brought together organisations from across the region who deal with people in challenging circumstances to discuss support for those struggling to make ends meet.

United Utilities' new payment plus scheme is aimed at customers who fall behind with water bill payments. For those who commit to a payment plan, the company has pledged to match every pound they pay off towards their outstanding debt, increasing to £2 per £1 after six months.

And in response to the roll-out of Universal Credit, the company is also offering customers a suspension or delay in their payments for up to eight weeks in the event of any reduction in their household income due to the transition to the new benefit.

West Lancs MP, Rosie Cooper, who met with representatives of United Utilities, welcomed the plans. She said: "I very much welcome the efforts of United Utilities in supporting its customers who may be struggling with their payments or increasing debt and providing a manageable and attractive solution to clearing some of their utility bills.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper with John Martin and Keith Haslett from United Utilities

"Not only can keeping up with rising utility bills be difficult, but it's widely known that many families really feel the pinch after the Christmas period.

"Many customers will appreciate the opportunity to work with United Utilities to help clear any debts through the newly-launched schemes."

Louise Beardmore, customer service director at United Utilities, said: "If customers are struggling with water bills they are likely to be struggling to pay other household bills, so this is a collective challenge to see what more we could all be doing to help and support people.

"We already offer a wide range of financial assistance schemes to support our most vulnerable customers, but we are challenging ourselves to improve the scale and effectiveness of the support we offer. We also know lots of customers may be unaware of what we do or feel unable to reach out for the help."

Attending the Affordability Summit were key agencies, utilities companies, local authorities, credit unions, foodbanks, housing associations and charitable organisations from across the region.

More information about the schemes and how to apply, can be found on the United Utilities website at www.unitedutilities.com/difficulty-paying-bill.

Public's views sought on assisted conception services

Report by Kenny Parker

RESIDENTS in West Lancashire are being given the opportunity to have their say on assisted conception services, including IVF.

The NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) is working in partnership with the other seven groups in Lancashire and South Cumbria to review clinical policies across the region.

As part of the review members of the public in West Lancs are being invited to read the proposed draft policy on assisted conception services, which is available on the CCG's website at www.westlancashireccg.nhs.uk, and provide their comments on the feedback survey.

The proposed policy will have an impact on patients and couples considering using health services to start a family.

Residents who do not have access to a computer can request written copies of the policy and survey be posted out by calling the CCG on 01695 588 203. Any comments should be submitted by no later than Friday, April 6.

Greg Mitten, chief officer of West Lancs Council for Voluntary Service and lay member for patient and public involvement at NHS West Lancashire CCG, said: "The CCG is responsible for commissioning a wide range of clinical services, including GP services, hospital services, community, mental health and learning disability services, for and on behalf of, the local population of which we serve. We need to ensure this is done in an open, fair and transparent manner but in so doing we must consider the limited resources we have.

"A key role for the CCG is to develop clinical policies that help us make decisions about the use of those limited resources. "This policy that we are currently consulting on may have an impact on many of our residents, it is therefore vitally important that our population have their say on what we are proposing."

'Almost exact' isn't good enough when it comes to bus timetable changes!

WHAT'S in a word - the word approximately in particular? After consulting my trusty, if by no means complete, Collins Concise English Dictionary, I've come up with the answers 'almost exact or correct'; 'to come near to'; or 'to be almost the same as.'

So, quite a useful word in many circumstances. It's fair enough to say: "I will be there is approximately an hour." Used thus the word gives its recipient a clear idea within a short time frame of exactly what you mean.

But last week I was puzzled by this word, and to an extent worried too. Just prior to the weekend before last, bus stop timetables in my neck of the woods suddenly sprouted a notice, with an unmissable red 'WARNING' at its top, giving the information that as from the following Saturday these stops would be out of use for the two through bus routes in Maghull - the 300 service to Southport and the 310 bus to Ormskirk - because of roadworks at the junction of the A59 Northway and Liverpool Road South.

I can't remember the exact wording of the whole thing, but as well as giving the alternative routes these two services would follow (good), it also said that these arrangements would last for 'approximately two days' (bad).

The diversion these two routes followed took them some distance away from the stops affected which meant, for instance, that in my case I would need to walk perhaps half-a-mile to reach them.

This wouldn't have been such an awful thing just for a couple of days, the Saturday and Sunday. But would the buses have returned to their normal routes on Monday morning? What was an intending passenger to do, guess which bus stop to wait at? And if so, for how long, given that buses have been known on occasion to be several minutes behind the published time?

It's no good saying you could find this information on the Merseytravel or Arriva websites. There are still many folk like me who can't do that, but even for those who could, if they hadn't seen the timetable notice beforehand they wouldn't have realised the need to before they set out anyway.

I don't blame either Arriva or even Merseytravel who put up the timetables, obviously neither could have known exactly when the road works would be completed. But these diversions covered roughly a mile of the two routes and involved only six bus stops. Surely it would have been possible for Merseytravel to have sent somebody out in a van or car as soon as it was known that they were reverting to their normal routes, and stick a piece of paper over the 'WARNING' notice?

I know this is something I have whinged about before, but bodies in authority suffer from a modern-day problem of assuming that a) everybody has and can use a computer; and b) that in the case of public transport in particular, everyone will consult the thing each time they go out for a local bus or train.

A few years ago I was Maghull Town Council's representative on a Merseytravel consultative committee and time and time again when a bus route was changed or timing altered, their response to my question of how they expected people to know about it, was "it's on our website." A fat lot of good if you'd just turned up at the stop for your bus for work or wherever only to find that it now left five minutes earlier!

I honestly believe that in North Merseyside and Sefton we still do pretty well for public transport. But if Government, national and local, is serious about attracting more people out of cars and onto buses and trains, it's vital not only that services go where and when folk need them, but they are also kept abreast of any short-term changes that have to be made - and when those changes have ceased if a firm date cannot be foreseen.

Care provider seeks recruits for new Citizens' Panel

VIRGIN Care is encouraging residents in West Lancashire to help make decisions on the best ways to improve health services in the borough by signing up to be part of its new Citizens' Panel.

The company runs Adult Community Services and Urgent Care Services on behalf of the NHS in West Lancashire which includes community nursing and Skelmersdale and Ormskirk walk-in centres. Anyone with an interest in local healthcare can sign up to be part of the panel in order to stay informed of services and developments.

Members can choose from three different levels of participation - informed, asked or involved - and will be offered opportunities to take part in initiatives such as surveys on how the services are being delivered locally or opportunities to get involved in improving health services via events and steering groups.

They will also receive news updates on a regular basis based on their chosen service areas of interest.

More than 20 people have signed up to be part of the panel so far.

The first Citizens' Panel meeting will take place on Thursday, February 22 from 10am to noon at West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group, Hilldale, Wigan Road, Ormskirk.

This will be an introductory meeting and an opportunity to find about more about the work of the transformation team who are redesigning Adult Community Services and Urgent Care Services.

Michelle Lee, managing director for Virgin Care in West Lancashire, said: "The Citizens' Panels are groups of local people who shape health and care services by offering their views and insight into what matters for them, helping us set priorities and develop solutions.

"Those who choose to join could be patients, carers, or members of the public who have an interest in healthcare. The panel is a key part of Virgin Care's work and will make a real difference to the people who use our services.

"The more people who join, the better our services will be. We hope over the next year that our exciting projects will encourage more people to be part of something very exciting in West Lancashire."

Library fees and fines rise

County Councillor Peter Buckley

LANCASHIRE County Council's cabinet has voted to increase fees and charges in the county's libraries and archives.

Library reservation fees have not been increased since 2005, while fines for the late return of books have not risen since 2012.

Charges for the archives service were last reviewed in 2016, and those for the museums service in 2013.

Library reservation fees will increase from 60p to 75p; fines for the late return of library books go up from 15p to 20p per day (up to a maximum of £6); the commission on artwork and crafts sold in libraries and museums rises from 20% to 35%; and the charge for a copy of an archive probate record from £7.50 (including postage and packing) to £10 excluding postage and packing.

It has also been agreed to introduce a new handling charge for requests to provide copies of archives, £2.50 for copies within UK and £3.50 from outside the UK.

County Councillor Peter Buckley, cabinet member for community and cultural services, said: "The council's financial position means that we have to review our charges from time to time. We hadn't increased these charges for a while, and although we would prefer not to have to, this situation had to be addressed."

Residents at Hillcroft Residential Care Home, Ormskirk, where management are aiming to make dreams come true in 2018

Care home aims to make dreams come true - with a little help from friends in the community

Report by Kenny Parker

MANAGEMENT at a care home in West Lancashire are aiming to make 2018 the year that residents' dreams come true.

Staff at the Hillcroft Residential Care Home in Long Lane, Aughton have launched a Live Your Dream project to banish the January blues and make this a year to remember for residents.

Each of the residents has shared their hopes and dreams for the year ahead and it is hoped to fulfil these one week at a time - hopefully with a little help from the local businesses and community.

Activities and events co-ordinator at Hillcroft, Megan Campbell, said: "Each week an individual will be taken to fulfil their particular dream - it could be going to a place they regularly used to visit, having a special meal with family or visiting the theatre.

"However some of our residents feel quite content that they have accomplished everything they want to and have agreed to have staff come up with a surprise that correlates with their individual interests.

"We would also like to ask if any local businesses could provide a special day for one of our residents.

"If you feel you have something lovely you could offer, please email us at hillcroft.rch.events@outlook.com, or message us on our Facebook page, Hillcroft Residential Care Home."

Builder's pledge on village play area

BUILDER Morris Homes has confirmed that it will be replacing a village playground that was demolished to make way for housing, following an approach by Rosie Cooper.

Residents had written to the West Lancs MP raising concerns that a playground detailed in the planning permission for the Herons Wharf housing estate in Appley Bridge had not yet been provided.

Now Ms Cooper has been told by Nick Uttley, Northern managing director at Morris Homes, that tenders have been received for the creation of the play area and a company has been selected to complete the installation.

The company says it is hopeful the work will be completed this month.

Rosie Cooper said: "Residents were understandably concerned that having lost a playground to the development of housing at Herons Wharf that the promised replacement playground would not be provided. So I was pleased to receive a response from Morris Homes confirming that the playground is set for installation this month.

"I will, of course, be monitoring the situation to ensure that the installation goes ahead and would welcome correspondence from residents should this not be the case in the coming weeks."

Date announced for next meeting of CCG Primary Care Committee

THE next Primary Care Committee meeting of the West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) will be held on Tuesday, January 30 and is open to the public.

Following the CCG's move to level three primary care co-commissioning in April 2017, they now have responsibility of commissioning primary care services in West Lancs and lead on decisions of how funding is allocated.

To support this move and to avoid conflict of interest, the new committee does not offer any local GPs voting rights and is chaired by new CCG lay member, Steve Gross.

Meetings take place in public, so anyone is welcome to observe.

Steve Gross said: "As a group of local commissioners and clinicians, we understand what issues face our local communities, and importantly what needs our local people have.

"These new committee meetings are held in public, so anyone can observe them, which further reflects our commitment to be transparent about our plans and decisions."

The meeting will be held in the boardroom of the CCG offices in Hilldale on the Ormskirk Hospital starting at 1.30pm and finishing at around 3pm.

For instructions on how to find the office, contact the CCG on 01695 588 000. The agenda for the meeting will be available online at www.westlancashireccg.nhs.uk a week before the meeting.

County council supports Young Carers Day

LANCASHIRE County Council is backing national Young Carers Awareness Day on Thursday, January 25.

This recognises the 700,000 children and young people under 18 years of age in the UK who provide care and support to someone in their family who is ill, has a disability or misuses substances.

County Councillor Susie Charles

County Councillor Susie Charles, Lancashire's cabinet member for Children, Young People and Schools, said: "We're glad to support Young Carers Awareness Day to raise awareness of the crucial role these young people have. We want this to be a day that everyone recognises the challenges faced by young carers and gives some thought to this.

"Our most recent figures indicate that we have around 4,000 children and young people who are providing care in Lancashire. This day provides us all with an opportunity to think if we know any young carers ourselves and ensure that we offer them the support they need.

"Most young carers provide between two and 19 hours every week, but some provide as many as 50. This can mean that they face many issues, and can be under a lot of strain, constantly juggling family, school and their personal life.

"We want to help schools, colleges, employers and the public to be able to assist these young people, to make sure that they are able to access the right support and are able to go on to pursue the employment that they want."

The Lancashire Young Carers Service is run by children's charity Barnardo's on behalf of the county council, in partnership with the East Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG).

'Amazing'

Jenny Ashcroft, manager for Barnardo's Young Carers Service in Lancashire, said: "Many young people with caring responsibilities may not realise they are actually carers, as it's just something they have always done, but their roles at home can often impact quite significantly on their own lives, including their education and personal wellbeing.

"That's why it is so important that adults and professionals who may come into contact with these young people can identify them and ensure they have access to the right support.

"Barnardo's provides one-to-one help to young carers and ensures the whole family is receiving the right level of support from a range of agencies, reducing the impact of the caring responsibilities and ensuring the young person can engage in school and socialise with peers. We also support them to gain access to further education, training and work.

"Young carers are amazing young people, who give so much to help care for their loved ones. It's crucial that they can have a childhood and their own life outside of caring and can access the same opportunities as others their age."

Chairman of Lancashire County Council, Skelmersdale Central councillor Terry Aldridge, will host an event at County Hall later this month in appreciation and recognition of the important role of young carers.

For more information about support for young carers in Lancashire can call 01772 641002, email lancashireyoungcarers@barnardos.org.uk or visit www.lancashirechildrenstrust.org.uk.

Primary pupils' ad video spoof proves a hit with department store executives!

WHEN youngsters at a West Lancs primary school were tasked with making their own version of the John Lewis TV Christmas advert, executives at the department store chain were so impressed with the result that they sent the children a gift and a handwritten note praising their efforts.

The John Lewis ads have become a Christmas tradition on TV and the 2017 version featured a seven-year-old boy being kept awake by furry giant, 'Moz the Monster'.

Katrina Williams, Class 7 teacher at Ormskirk St Anne's Catholic Primary School, explained: "For a Christmas project my class of Year 3 children had to create their own version of the advert, the twist being that instead of a quest for sleep, it became a quest for a pen licence (permission to use a pen instead of a pencil) which the children are all desperate for!"

A copy of the completed film was then emailed to Paula Nickolds, chief executive of John Lewis. And when they returned to school after the holidays Ms Willliams and the pupils were surprised to receive a parcel containing a Moz monster cuddly toy and book, along with a handwritten note.

The note read: "Dear Ms Willams and Year 3, thank you so much for sending us your Moz video.

" We are so impressed and have spent hours re-watching it in the office! We have enclosed a little treat, we hope this inspires more Moz adventures."

Ms Williams said: "The children were extremely touched and very excited and as their teacher I was grateful for the time taken to send the gifts."

Yona Knight-Wisdom with some of the pupils he met during his visit to St Thomas The Martyr CE Primary School, Up Holland.

Olympic diver makes a splash with primary school pupils

A SPORTSMAN who has competed at both the Olympics and the Commonwealth Games made a big splash when he visited five West Lancs primary schools to give inspirational talks to pupils.

Diver Yona Knight-Wisdom went along to St Thomas The Martyr CE Primary, Up Holland; Woodland Community Primary, Skelmersdale; Ormskirk CE Primary; Burscough St John's CE Primary; and Hesketh with Becconsall All Saints CE to talk about his life, his sport and the importance of education.

The visits were organised by Carlos Ferra, head coach of Burscough Diving Club to launch this year's West Lancashire Sport Partnership Splash 4 Fun Diving Competition. Carlos is also offering a free club taster session for any Year 5 or 6 pupil who attends a West Lancs primary school.

Although born in England, 22-year-old Yona became the first male diver to represent Jamaica - the birthplace of his father - at the Rio Olympics in 2016, having also achieved a similar milestone in the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow in 2014.

In June last year he won a silver medal in the three-metre springboard event at the British Diving Championships in Edinburgh and he won a World Cup Silver medal in 2016 also in the three-metre springboard.

He delivered an inspiring video presentation to the children about his journey and allowed time for the children to ask any questions. Yona is competing in the Commonwealth Games this year so the children are excited to watch out for him and cheer him on.

Head teacher at St Thomas The Martyr CE Primary, Carl Roscoe, said the children were impressed by all the places around the world that Yona had travelled to as a result of his diving and were inspired to persevere with their own sporting efforts and with their studies.

Yona, who has a honours degree in sports science, told his young listeners that while excelling at sport is wonderful, studying hard at school is even more important.

Mr Roscoe said: "We were extremely grateful to Yona for attending our school to inspire our children and share his incredible success in a fantastic, motivational speech."

Call to take the plunge for diabetes charity

FUNDRAISERS in West Lancashire are being urged to take on a new swimming-based challenge between next month and May.

The team at Diabetes UK are looking for residents in the borough to take on Swim 22, between February 22 and May 22.

Participants will be asked to cover 22 miles - the equivalent of crossing the English Channel.

People taking on the challenge can swim in their local pool alone or, better still, with family, friends or colleagues. The distance can even be split between a team to make it easier for everyone.

Stephen Ryan from Diabetes UK said: "Swimming is a fantastic way to stay fit and healthy, have fun and set yourself a challenge.

"Whether you're an absolute beginner or a seasoned swimmer, our team will be on hand to offer swimming tips and fundraising advice.

"Every day, around 700 people are diagnosed with diabetes. When diabetes is not well managed it can lead to serious complications including heart disease, stroke, blindness, kidney failure and amputations.

"Every length you complete and every pound you raise brings us closer to our vision of a world where diabetes can do no harm. So sign up and make a splash!"

To register, visit diabetes.org.uk/swim22. There is no registration fee and no minimum sponsorship.

Room with a view was just the tonic to warm away the January blues

Champion Travel Review: Waterhead Hotel, Ambleside

IN the latest of our travel reviews, the Champion's TOM MARTIN headed to the Lakes for a winter break at the Waterhead Hotel.

EXPECTATIONS were high when I set off for a weekend stay in one of the most popular hotels in the Lake District – and I wasn't disappointed.

The second I pulled around the corner of Lake Road and got a first glimpse of the grey building overlooking the calm water, it quickly became clear why this is such a popular choice of accomodation for lovers of the Lakes. On arrival, I was given a warm welcome by an informative and friendly receptionist, who pointed out the key amenities of the hotel and local area.

I found out that some of the many perks of the booking includes free entry to the leisure facilities at sister hotel, Low Wood Bay, only a mile down the road, and discounted fares on the lake's popular cruise boats.

I was then shown to my room, and as soon as I stepped inside my eyes were drawn to the breathtaking views of Lake Windermere - heightened by the tall windows which showcase the stunning scenery in all its glory.

On a cold January morning, the best way to view Lake Windermere is definitely from luxury lakeside view accommodation!

There are around 40 hotel rooms in total, many of which have a clear view of the lake, and all of them feature the usual complimentary tea and coffee.

However, what stood out was the complimentary locally distilled gins, and peanuts – and for the more sweet-toothed of guests, there was gingerbread from nearby Grasmere, and jelly sweets. It gave me an instant taste of the Lake District and set the weekend off nicely.

Elsewhere in the room, the beds were incredibly comfortable and the underfloor heating in the bathroom felt great on my bare feet in the morning! Walking through the hotel, there was a warm and homely feel to the place, particularly noticeable in the lobby area with a roaring fireplace and comfy leather couches, reminiscent of a country house living room.

The dining area and bar are located on the ground floor and appeared bright, spacious and stylish.

For breakfast, there was a healthy mixture of cereal and pastries on the buffet table, or from the kitchen there were a range of hot dishes, including pancakes, smoked salmon, an American breakfast and the popular Waterhead Grill.

The Waterhead Hotel

Understandably, there wasn't much activity in the outdoor seating area with it being the middle of January, but in the summer months, the Waterhead boasts its own outdoor pizza oven.

For my evening meal, I headed to the Bar & Grill restaurant which prides itself on locally sourced food. I can't speak for everything on the menu, but the Crisp Pulled Pork Croquettes, Confit Duck Leg and Chargrilled Cumbrian Chicken Breast were delicious!

Having left the car outside the hotel, I didn't need it again for the whole weekend. Boats on the lake and a bus stop outside the hotel's front door means getting about the area isn't a problem and Ambleside town centre is only a 15-minute walk away.

Overall, it was a thoroughly relaxing and enjoyable stay. If you love the Lakes, this is definitely the best way to make the most of a weekend away.

The view of Lake Windermere from my hotel room

The hotel is located right next to the lake

Slimming World consultant Tina Whewell (right) and group member Janet Noone with the donation

Slimmers weigh in with tasty treat for charity

A GROUP of local slimmers have weighed in with a tasty post-festive hamper donation to a local charity.

Members of the Slimming World group based at Ormskirk Rugby Club donated their unopened Christmas goodies - including chocolates, biscuits and crisps - to the West Lancashire Women's Refuge which provides support for those who have been victims or are likely to be victims of physical, emotional, sexual or financial harm or abuse.

Slimming World consultant, Tina Whewell, said: "I'm so proud of our members, their commitment to getting back on plan is commendable.

"Nothing is banned from our generous Food Optimising plan - things like chocolate, biscuits and crisps are definitely allowed in moderation - but we also encourage our members to identify the trigger foods that can lead them on the path of slimming destruction and that most people have had in abundance during the festive period.

"This is something we do every year but this has got to be one of the best goodie hampers that we have donated.

"When Janet Noone, a member from our Wednesday evening group who works for the refuge, mentioned they were always grateful for donations, I couldn't believe how eager everyone was to get on board!"

Janet Noone added: "I really am overwhelmed with our members' generosity and also their determination to lose weight."

Edge Hill appoints new head of media

AN academic whose research interests range from 15th century portraits to blockbuster films, has been appointed new head of media at Edge Hill University.

Professor Matthew Pateman aims to ensure the department builds on its research and employment links and looks to become an outward-facing, confident, first choice destination for students and academics.

Professor Matthew Pateman new head of media at Edge Hill University

Matthew first visited the Ormskirk campus 20 years ago as a guest lecturer for current Sociology programme leader, Paul Reynolds.

"He said: I remember really liking the experience and was genuinely interested in Edge Hill. So when this opportunity came up I was really excited.

Ambition

"I have family in Lancashire and this looked like the ideal opportunity to come to an institution that had the care and intimacy that I remember from that first visit in the 1990s but is also growing and has great ambition. It is a beautiful campus and a lovely place to work and study."

Matthew joins from Sheffield Hallam where he was Head of Humanities for four years, having previously been Head of School in Performance and Screen studies at Kingston University and Head of Media and Film at the University of Hull.

In his new role he plans to explore research and partnership possibilities, particularly links with industry, to build the profile of the department regionally, nationally and internationally.

He is also keen to capitalise on the university's location to work with creative industries across Greater Manchester and Merseyside, as well as Lancashire and beyond.

International pianist to make rare UK appearance

Alessandro Taverna

PARBOLD Douglas Music is to present international concert pianist, Alessandro Taverna, performing in the Auditorium in the Village Hall on Saturday, February 10 at 7.45pm.

This will be a rare UK appearance for an artist that has a stellar career in Southern Europe and America.

Italian pianist Alessandro Taverna has been hailed by the British music critics as the 'natural successor to his great compatriot Arturo Benedetti Michelangeli'.

Alessandro is considered one of the most remarkable pianists of his generation. He established his international career by winning top prizes at Minnesota Piano Competition, London International Piano Competition, Leeds International Piano Competition and Busoni Piano Competition in Bolzano. His success has led to many engagements with the most prestigious orchestras all over the world. Lorin Maazel, the great conductor, was so enthused by Alessandro's playing that he invited him to tour with the renowned Vienna Philharmonic in 2012.

For his artistic achievements and his international career, in 2012 Alessandro was awarded the Premio Presidente della Repubblica by the Italian State President.

In Parbold Alessandro will be presenting a programme of virtuosic, poetic piano-playing not to be missed. Exploring the theme of the festive exuberance of carnivals and masques, undercut by the jester's sorrow, Alessandro Taverna's will be playing Claude Debussy's Masques, Robert Schumann's Carnaval and Carnival in Vienna and movements from Igor Stravinsky's ballet suite Pétrouchka.

A limited number of stand-by tickets is always available at the Box Office on the evening of the concert. Concert Tickets: £16 / £5 Young Persons and Students.

Parbold Douglas Music has set up a 'Shuttle to the Show' service, supported by Lancashire County Council. It offers a subsidised return mini-coach trip for members of the audience who wish to enjoy an evening of world–class music. To find out more and book the Shuttle, first book your concert ticket at Parbold Douglas Music's Box Office and then contact the bus control room Tel: 01704 893373 to arrange the journey.

As part of Parbold Douglas Music's commitment to the NW community it has also maintained its admission price for students/young persons at £5 for any concert.

A scene from Her Benny

Royal Court theatre is to play host to Her Benny

LIVERPOOL Royal Court plays host to Her Benny from this Thursday (January 25) until Saturday, February 10.

The musical, which won the International Quest for New Musicals, is celebrating its 25th Anniversary.

It was first staged in Liverpool in 1993 where it played to sell-out audiences at The Empire Theatre.

The show has received a makeover for this production but still remains true to Silas K Hocking's original novel, an emotive tale that centres on the life and times of Benny Bates and his waif like sister Nell in Victorian Liverpool. It's a feel good classic rags to riches story but it's not all serious though, far from it. There is plenty of scouse humour, spectacular dance numbers, memorable tunes and rich and engaging dialogue.

The cast includes John McGrellis who has appeared in several productions in the city's theatres and was more recently DI Martin Leahy in the widely acclaimed ITV series Little Boy Blue and the fabulous Lindzi Germain, one of The Royal Court's regulars.

She is a wonderful all rounder who has starred in stage plays, farces, gritty dramas and musical theatre.

Most recently she starred as Angela Gabriel in The Royal Court's sell out Christmas production The Scouse Nativity.

Together with Janet Cowley, ex Phantom of the Opera, and Elliott Hanna who played the leading role of Billy Elliot in the West End production at the Victoria Palace Theatre London, they join a stellar professional cast drawn primarily from the Merseyside area and a group of juvenile performers chosen from an audition held The Adelphi Hotel, Liverpool.

More than 250 young hopefuls from the region attended and it took a gruelling four days to make the final selections.

"The parts of the juvenile leads in this production, Eva Lawrence and Nell and Benny Bates are challenging ones", said writer and director Anne Dalton. They are bigger than in most musicals but I am delighted to have found youngsters who are just perfect for the roles. Due to their young age and the requirements of the licensing laws I have had to choose three children for each role but because of the wonderful turn out at the auditions I was able to find youngsters to fit the parts."

For this special production Anne has revamped the script, replaced a song and has taken the opportunity to have the whole show re-orchestrated.

She's delighted that Greg Last from Formby agreed to take on this role. This exceptional musical director and arranger has worked in the West End and on tours across the UK and abroad.

Most recently he was M.D. and arranger for The Everyman Christmas pantomime. The show has also been dazzlingly re-choreographed. The multi-talented Nazene Danielle, who coincidently played the part of little Eva when she as a child, carried out this task with aplomb.

Catch One For The Road at the Little

SOUTHPORT Dramatic Club's next play is the Willy Russell comedy, One For The Road, set during the 1980s on a northern housing estate with pretensions of grandeur. What you might call Abigail's Party country.

While Pauline (Jennifer Corcoran) schemes to keep up with smug neighbours, Jane (Sam Roberts) and Roger (Paul Wilkinson), who are trying to catch the culprits responsible for wrecking the estate's garden gnomes, Pauline's husband, Dennis (Tony O'Keefe), is approaching his 40th birthday with dread. How did his dreams of freedom change into a world of John Denver records and upmarket cottage pie? Time, he thinks, for action.

Lots of laughs but Willy Russell updated the script in 1985 to reflect the times so beware of strong language.

Willy Russell also wrote Blood Brothers, Shirley Valentine and Educating Rita.

Directed by Tracey Batchelor, the play runs from this Friday, January 26 to Saturday, February 3 at 7.30pm each evening.

Tickets from the Box Office. Tel: 01704 530521/530460.

PRAYERS

NOVENA TO SACRED HEART

May the sacred heart of Jesus be praised, glorified, honoured, adored and made renowned throughout the whole world, forever and ever. Amen.

P.P.

Say this prayer 9 times a day for 9 days and publish when prayers are answered.

DEAR SACRED HEART OF JESUS

In the past I have asked for many favours. This time I ask for one special favour. (mention it)

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your own broken heart where your Father sees it. Then, in his merciful eyes, it will become your favour, not mine.

Amen.

Say this prayer for three days, promise publication and your favour will be granted.
Never to be failed.

B.D.

Thank you to everyone for attending the Funeral Service and for donations received for the MS Society and Zoe's Place in Irene's memory

MOORE ERIC

Bev, Vicky and James would like to thank everyone for their support and messages of sympathy received during their recent sad loss, and for their donations to Liverpool Heart and Chest Hospital.

Also Lisa Hunter, MLS Independent Funeral Directors for their dignified funeral arrangements.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

PATTERSON ALAN

Flo and family would like to express their sincere gratitude to all who offered sympathy and support during our recent sad loss, whether through messages of condolence, attendance at Alan's Funeral or through donations to the St. Paul's Anterior Segment Fund or Emmanuel Church. They would also like to thank the Rev. Sue Guenault of Emmanuel Church for leading the funeral and for her unwavering support to the family, Hunters Funeral Directors for the dignified arrangements and the staff at Hurlston Hall for their hospitality.

ASHTON JOAN

Dave and his family would like to express their sincere thanks to relations, friends and neighbours for their messages of sympathy and support at this sad time.
Also all those who made donations to the St.Johns Ambulance Brigade.
Many Thanks to John Milton for a moving funeral service and to Lisa and colleagues at MLS Funeral Directors for their caring and professional service.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

FRANK QUINN
January 2018

Ruth, Anthony, Sue, Francis, Mandy and family would like to thank relatives and friends for their love and support during their recent loss. Thank you for sympathy cards and donations for Dementia UK. A special thanks to Courtfield Lodge care home who cared for Frank. Thanks to Father Godric for the lovely mass at St. Anne's church, Ormskirk. Also many thanks to Melanie at H.Hardmans & Co funeral directors.

ROBERTS JANET (JAN)

The family of the late Janet Roberts would like to express their heartfelt thanks to all relatives, friends and neighbours, for all their sympathy cards, messages of condolence and donations for Alder Hey Children's Hospital received during their recent sad loss. Thanks also to John Milton for his kind words of comfort and The Team at MLS Independent Funeral Directors for their dignified funeral arrangements.

PUBLIC NOTICES

West Lancashire Borough Council

Planning (Listed Buildings & Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 - Article 15

APPLICATION(S) AFFECTING A CONSERVATION AREA / LISTED BUILDING

Application No: 2017/1265/FUL Demolition of 6 former agricultural buildings, conversion of 8 former agricultural buildings to create 13 dwellings with associated garaging and car ports, improvements to the existing access and associated landscaping works at Tanpit Farm House, Broad Lane, Downholland.
This does not (or may not) accord with the development plan.
The proposed development affects a right of way to which Part III of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 applies.
Application No: 2018/0020/FUL Single storey extension to the rear at 49 St Helens Road, Ormskirk.
Application No: 2018/0021/LBC Listed Building Consent - Conversion of barn to dwelling including two storey side extension and single storey rear extension. Demolition of existing adjoining steel frame agricultural building. Associated external works at Rothwell House, Lafford Lane, UpHolland, Skelmersdale.
Application No: 2018/0028/COU Conversion of upper floors and change of use to student HMO including loft conversion - 9 bedrooms and 4 studio bedrooms at 19 - 21 Aughton Street, Ormskirk.
Application No: 2018/0036/FUL Variation of Condition No. 4 imposed on planning permission 2017/0614/COU to read - Unless otherwise agreed in writing with Local Planning Authority all windows and doors shall be painted grey aluminium at 6 Top Locks, Wheat Lane, Lathom.

APPLICATION(S) FOR PLANNING PERMISSION

Application No: 2017/1264/FUL Construction of a first floor side extension, two-storey and single storey rear extension and conversion of integral garage into habitable accommodation at Tanpit Farm Cottage, Broad Lane, Downholland.
The proposed development affects a right of way to which Part III of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 applies.
The applications are available for viewing on the Council's website www.westlancs.gov.uk/planning. Alternatively, the application can be viewed during normal office hours at 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk and at 1st Floor, The Concourse, Skelmersdale. If you wish to comment on the proposal you can do so via the Council's web site, by e.mail to plan.apps@westlancs.gov.uk or in writing to Development and Regeneration Services, 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk, but these must be received within 21 days of the date of this notice quoting the application no. Any comments made will be available for public inspection.
Applications for Minor Commercial and Householder Development
In the event that an appeal is made against a decision of the Council to refuse to grant planning permission for the proposed development, and that appeal then proceeds by way of the expedited procedure under the written representations procedure, any representations made to the Council about an application will be passed to the Secretary of State and there will be no opportunity to make further representations.

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

SO FAR Theresa May's yet to make any announcement banning future episodes of Love Island being broadcast for good. Oasis are yet to get back together, and Britain's best brewers still haven't worked out how to create beer that helps you lose weight.

But very occasionally things you keep your fingers crossed for do actually happen. Regular readers might recall that in these very pages about six months ago I openly wished for Land Rover to bring the Defender back, if only so it could give all the aftermarket customisers currently ruining the old ones a well-deserved drubbing. Amazingly, they've only gone and done it.

The Defender Works V8, to give it its official title, is not Britain's biggest carmaker admitting it got it wrong all along and begrudgingly putting the nation's most hardcore off-roader back into production. It's being tackled by Jaguar Land Rover's classic car division, but nor is it one of their beautifully executed revivals of its greatest hits, like the Jaguar E-types or the two-door Range Rovers it's put together in recent years. This is Land Rover playing the aftermarket boys at their own game, by taking old ones, and imagining how much cooler they'd be with big alloys, a noisy V8 and leather-lining trimmings. And then making it happen.

As a result it's rather more expensive than the regular Defenders ever were – £150,000, since you're asking – but it does churn out 400bhp, so it can hit sixty in 5.6 seconds AND go mountain climbing afterwards. Admittedly, you'd be a bit cheesed off if you bought one of the last-of-the-line Defenders two years ago, but Land Rover says that it's only because it's celebrating its 70th birthday this year. Honest. They won't make any more Defenders after that. Promise!

As someone who spent most of their childhood in Land Rover's V8 offerings I'm more than happy for them to have another crack at it – and while I reckon it's a lovely birthday gesture it achieves what I suspect was Land Rover's aim all along, because it looks so much better thought-out than all the dreadful Pimp My Defender offerings doing the rounds at the moment. For all its blacked out alloys and chromed door handles the Works V8 looks like it could still fit in at a farmers' market in deepest Shropshire. Obviously my next wish is for roughly £150,000 to appear in my bank account. Fingers crossed, and all that…

The stricken floodlight blown over by strong winds

Lights out at Burscough!

BURSCOUGH will hope their upcoming home games can go ahead after one of their floodlights fell victim to high winds.

Last Saturday, the Linnets were due to host Ashton Athletic, but this had to be switched to their ground after a floodlight was blown out of its position and it became a health and safety matter.

As it turned out, the away trip to Ashton was then called off due to a waterlogged pitch.

Burscough's next home game is on Saturday, February 3 when they are due to Hanley Town, but club officials are confident it will go ahead.

Before that, the Linnets play this Saturday when they travel to 1874 Northwich, who play at Winsford United's ground.

Meanwhile, Skelmersdale United manager Dave Powell was all smiles after the 4-4 draw with Mossley. He was full of praise for the spirit his players displayed to fight back from 3-0 down, but he was critical of how they found themselves three goals down at the interval at Seel Park.

Dave said: "I was disappointed with the nature of the goals, we have got to stop making mistakes. There was a whole sequence of mistakes for the first Mossley goal, we have got to cut it out.

"We had words at half-time, not just me but other members of the team, and it was a wake-up call for us.

"We hadn't stuck to the game plan, we came out after the break and stuck to the game plan. Because of it they started to make mistakes and we put the pressure on them and scored the goals.

"That should give us confidence. I think we should take a lot from the second-half performance, especially coming back from 3-0 down then conceding another soft goal. The lads showed a great character to come back again and play to the end. We got our rewards. We can move forward now."

Dave went on to pay tribute to Phil Mooney who was making his 150th appearance for the club.

Phil has been with the club since he was a 16 year old and although he has left a couple of times he has always come back and is considered something of a stalwart.

Dave said of him: "Phil is a bit of a gem for Skem United, he is consistent, plays in different positions and always gives 100%."

Skelmersdale were due to face Ossett Town last night (Tuesday) and this Saturday they are at home against Atherton Collieries.

Skem come from three down to rescue point

Mossley 4
Skelmersdale United 4

After somehow equalising to make it 3-3 in the 85th minute, Mossley restored their lead three minutes later - but deep into injury time Skem made it 4-4 and might even have won it before the final whistle in a dramatic finale.

Referee Dale Baines deserved praise for getting the game on after a 2pm snowstorm.

Skelmersdale had started promisingly and after only two minutes Jordan Darr fought his way down the right, cut inside and his ball to Tyler Rufus in the centre of the goal was only grasped by Mossley goalkeeper Ollie Martin at the second attempt.

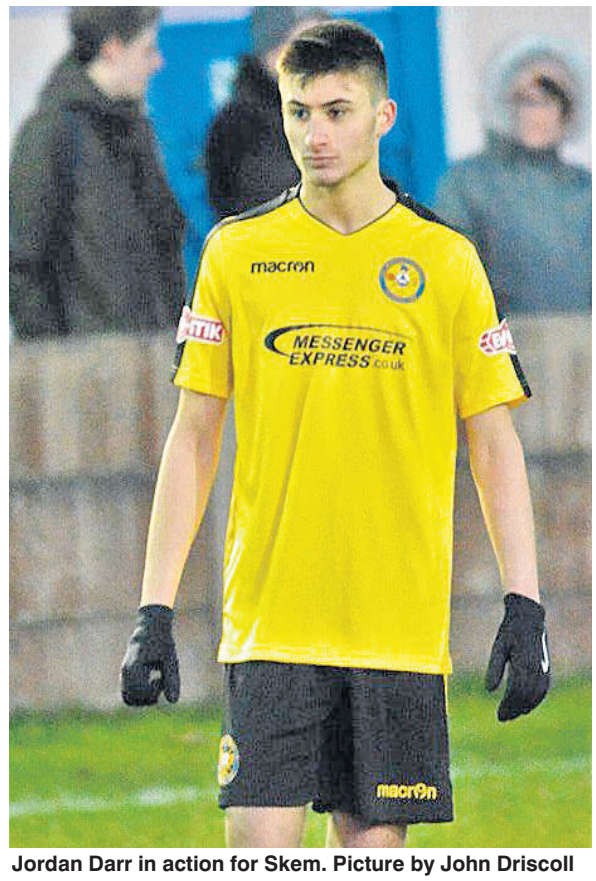
Skelmersdale were pushing up and using an effective offside trap that has been a useful aid over the last couple of matches, but they were undone by this tactic in the 16th minute.

Leaving a couple of forwards abandoned behind their backline they were undone by a run from deep by Jack Touhy onto a through ball, who ran on unchallenged and slotted into the Skelmersdale net for the opener.

In the 27th minute it was almost 2-0. Mossley worked the ball down the left hand side and it was fed inside and on the edge of the penalty area Mike Fish was allowed to create a shooting angle and hit the foot of the post.

In the 32nd minute a corner from the right was punched on by Roberts and went to the far side of the penalty area.

It was played back in and forced home by Elliott after his initial effort was blocked, leaving Skelmersdale far from happy as they thought Roberts had been fouled.



Jordan Darr in action for Skem. Picture by John Driscoll

Skelmersdale were giving Mossley far too much space in midfield and on 41 minutes matters looked impossible.

Fish beat Roberts from the spot and Skem looked a beaten team going into the half time break.

The catalyst for Skelmersdale's comeback came in the 48th minute when Mike Roddy swung a free-kick from the right to the far post area. Everyone missed it except Darr, timing his run behind perfectly everyone to head home from six yards.

It was a different game from that moment onwards. Skelmersdale were now closing down in midfield and were finding men with their passes, more significantly they were forcing Mossley onto the defensive and limiting their attacks to counterattack movements.

In the 64th minute Rufus set off on a run at the heart of the Mossley defence, he twisted past one man and was shaping to shoot when he was hit with a late tackle. The referee pointed to the spot and Roddy made it 3-2 and there was still more than 25 minutes to go.

Skem made it 3-3 when Alaster Redmayne slammed a shot beyond Martin to equalise from fifteen yards.

The players were starting to get feisty and in the 88th minute Mossley went back in front, the ball was hoisted to the near post from the right and Tom Dean headed home from a couple of yards.

Skem still weren't beaten. Jack Fleming latched onto a clearance and from 40 yards picked out Darr with a diagonal ball, who ran in behind the home defence and placed the ball across Martin into the far corner with a right-foot shot to make it 4-4.

In the final seconds, Redmayne and Darr came close to getting behind the home defence again, but couldn't create an opportunity.

To come back the way Skelmersdale did deserves the utmost credit and they have made a habit of getting valuable late goals this season, but this was without doubt their best yet.
